General Information

The University

Appalachian State University, founded in 1899 as Watauga Academy, is located in Boone, North Carolina, in the heart of the Blue Ridge of the Appalachian mountains, close to the borders of Virginia and Tennessee and less than two hours from the region's major airports and population centers.

Growing steadily through its transformations as Appalachian State Normal School in 1925 to Appalachian State Teachers' College in 1929 to Appalachian State University in 1967 and a part of the consolidated University of North Carolina in 1971, the campus has come to occupy some 48 buildings on its 75-acre main campus as well as several new buildings on the new 180-acre west campus. The University has a master plan for an enrollment of 10,000 students with future expansions concentrated on some 330 acres of outlying land owned by the University.

The Summer Sessions

The summer instructional program is an integral part of the year round program at Appalachian State University. The university operates on a semester system with the fall and spring terms being held for 15 weeks and the principal terms of the summer being two 4½-week terms plus 1, 2, and 3-week terms within the overall 9-week time frame.

Undergraduate and graduate students can choose from well balanced broadly based curricular offerings during the summer session and may make progress toward degree programs in almost all areas of study.

The academic program of the summer session is supplemented by many cultural events, including musical events, local attractions and recreational opportunities in the surrounding areas.

Admission to Summer School

Applying for Summer Sessions

Appalachian has an open door policy for undergraduates regarding summer attendance. The only undergraduates who would not be accepted are those who have been dismissed from the university for medical or disciplinary reasons. Such persons must contact the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs for clearance to attend summer school. The open door policy does not apply to graduate students. Graduate students are subject to the same eligibility restrictions in the summer as they are in the academic year.

All persons not currently enrolled at Appalachian must complete a Summer Sessions application. This form is inserted in the back of this bulletin. Students enrolled during the current spring term apply for summer by contacting the Registrar's Office, (704) 262-2050.

Persons wishing to enter the University for the first time to begin work on an undergraduate degree, and persons transferring to Appalachian from another institution must be accepted by the Admissions Office before being accepted to summer school as a degree student.

Graduate Students wishing to earn credit toward any graduate degree should file an application to Graduate School (if not previously accepted). Graduate applications are available from the Dean of the Graduate School.

Any person who has not attended Appalachian before must forward a $15.00 processing fee with the summer application.

Residence Status

University policy on residence status is stated in the General Catalog. Any student or prospective student in doubt concerning his or her residence status is directed to consult that publication or to contact the Registrar's Office.

Visiting Students

A person enrolled at another post-secondary institution who wishes to attend Appalachian to earn credit to be transferred to his/her home school must submit a letter from that institution stating that the credit earned at Appalachian will be accepted for transfer.

Academic Policies

The Summer Sessions at Appalachian are operated under the same academic policies that govern the regular academic year. Students are responsible for policies and procedures as set forth in the General Catalog. This publication is available, and should be used for reference.

Summer Expenses

Fees are charged by the term and are due and payable at the time of registration. The university reserves the right to change, add, and delete fees.

Before taking final examinations at the close of the term, a student is expected to settle all accounts. A student may not register for a new term until all charges have been paid or arranged for. A student cannot receive a degree, certificate, or transcript of credit until all accounts except current loans have been paid.

Housing

The University's residence halls are an important part of campus life, offering a variety of experiences that can contribute to intellectual, personal, and social development. Group living can enable a student to develop individuality as well as responsibility to and respect for others.

The residence halls are staffed by professional personnel and student employees who are responsible for the welfare of students living on campus and for the upkeep of the buildings. Through attendance at a variety of conferences and workshops, the staff keeps abreast of new ideas for providing a supportive educational and living environment.

How to Reserve a Room

Students who would like to reserve rooms in the residence halls for the summer term need to complete and return the enclosed housing application.

Students who wish to be roommates should make their room reservations at the same time and indicate their roommate's name on the housing card. The housing cards need to be mailed to the housing office in the same envelope.

The housing office reserves the right to make reassignments of accommodations if they are considered necessary. There is not a room change period during the summer session.

Students may move into the residence halls as early as 1 pm on the day before registration. Unless the Residence Life Office has been notified of a late arrival, room reservations expire at 6 pm on registration day.

Workshops

Individuals who desire on campus housing while attending a workshop need to complete the attached application and submit it with full payment for housing. Only people participating in workshops will be permitted to stay in the residence halls. Single and double room accommodations are available.

Visitation hours have been established. All other policies, procedures and guidelines outlined in this booklet apply to workshop participants.

Rooms and Furnishings

Each room in the residence halls is furnished with single beds, study desks, chairs, dressers, and closets. Students provide their own pillows, bed linens, blankets, towels, lamps, and wastebaskets. They may also bring radios, stereos, and television sets as long as outside antennas are not required.

All rooms are equipped to accommodate two students. There are no single rooms, but students may arrange for private occupancy for an additional fee, if space is available.

SPECIAL FACILITIES. For the convenience of students who would like to prepare snacks, the residence halls are equipped with small kitchenettes where cooking is permitted. Cooking is not allowed in residence hall rooms. At least one televisions set connected to a central antenna is available in each hall for entertainment of students. Other facilities include vending machines, and coin-operated washers and dryers.

Rules and Regulations

For obvious health and safety reasons and because of legal statutes, the university is unable to allow certain items in the residence hall rooms. These items include body building equipment, cooking appliances and cooking, fireworks, outside aerials or antennas, radio transmitters, air conditioners, firearms, gas and air pistols and rifles, ammunition, explosives, water beds, and dart and archery equipment. To insure the welfare of residents, certain harmful activities are also not permitted, such as fighting, wrestling, gambling, vandalism, or littering in or around the buildings. In addition, students who are involved in the damage or loss of residence hall property will be required to pay for the cost of repair or replacement, or to share in such costs if more than one student is responsible for the damage or loss. The university extends to students the privilege of visiting with members of the opposite sex in residence hall rooms. Maximum guidelines for guest visitation are 12 noon each day until one-half hour before closing each day. All resident students and their guests are expected to follow the rules and regulations of the university as well as state and federal laws.

Off Campus Housing

Students who plan to live off campus make their own living arrangement. It is a good idea to visit the community and inspect the facilities before makng any housing agreement. Students are advised to obtain written contracts outlining their own responsibilities as well as those of their landlord. The Office of Residence Life maintains a notebook of available apartments in the community. Individuals are welcome to review these notebooks during normal office hours. (8 to 5, Monday thru Friday)

Student Services and Facilities

Health Services

Medical services are provided to the students by the University Medical Center. A registered nurse is on duty 24 hours each day and physicians are present from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday when school is in session. Only students actually registered for and taking courses are eligible for Medical Center services. In addition, students must present a current validated I.D. card before treatment.

Persons needing the services of a physician outside the regular out-patient hours may be referred by Health Services staff to the Watauga County Hospital Emergency Room. In such cases they will be expected to assume responsibility for the cost thus engendered.

There is no charge for most of the services provided in the Center. Employment physicals may be administered for a small fee. Group hospital insurance for the summer is available through Blue Cross/Blue Shield. Applications may be obtained through the Medical Center.

Counseling and Psychological Services

The services provided by the ASU Counseling and Psychological Services Center are available to all currently enrolled university students at no charge. All contacts at the Center are confidential.

Student I.D. Cards

Students who wish to obtain an I.D. card may do so by presenting a validated receipt at the I.D. Center located in Welborn Hall (cafeteria). Hours of operation are between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. There is a $5.00 charge for a new I.D.

Returning students should follow the same procedure to have I.D. card validated. There is no charge for this service.

Residence Life Fee

A $1.00 voluntary activity fee is collected in the full-time summer student residence halls that is used to support residence life programs in the student's assigned hall. The student pays this fee only once during the time she/he is enrolled during the summer.

Automobile Regulations

Students bringing automobiles to ASU during the summer must register their vehicles with the Campus Security Department. A fee is charged for this registration. Vehicles registered for the 1983-84 academic year do not need to be registered for the summer.

The Security Department will be available to register vehicles during the registration process the first day of each term. Students will receive a copy of the University's traffic regulations and parking information at this time.

University Bookstore

Located next to Plemmons Student Union, the University Bookstore offers a wide variety of merchandise and services. The general departments of textbooks, paperbacks, merchandise and sporting goods are on separate levels of the store. A full service bank is in the lobby area. Cap and gown purchase and rental are available through the Bookstore. In addition, the store is responsible for all vending on campus. All textbooks are purchased in the summer.

Food Services

All residence hall students registered for a 4½-week term are required to participate in the food plan. Requirement will be prorated for late room assignments. The fee which is collected at the registration center, represents the minimum food service requirement. The food plan may be increased during the term at the Food Services Director's office during regular office hours.

On the day of registration, meal cards may be obtained in the East Wing of the University Cafeteria between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. by presenting a validated receipt.

The University Cafeteria located in Welborn Hall serves three meals a day the entire summer session. The Sweet Shop, located in Plemmons Student Union, also accepts meal cards. Hours of operation are posted at entrances.

Office of Career Planning and Placement

ASU operates a comprehensive career planning and placement program for students and alumni. The office provides career counseling, career information, assistance with resume writing, interviewing skills and job search techniques, on-campus recruitment, employer information and a credentials program. In addition, the office provides a job location and development service for students who are seeking part-time employment while attending ASU.

Postal and Banking Service

A United States Post Office Contract Station is maintained by Appalachian in the Student Support Building. A mailbox is provided for every student. The student's university mailbox address is used by the university for communicating with each student. For this reason, students are responsible for checking their university mailboxes frequently.

Convenient banking services are located in the lobby of the University Bookstore.

ASU Child Care Center

ASU Child Care Center offers quality child care to all ASU students, faculty, and staff. Children, ages 3 months to 5 years, are accepted on a regular, part-time basis. The Center operates according to the University class schedule and is usually open from 7:45 until 5:15. Contact the ASU Child Care Center for further information at 704-262-2116 or 200 Appalachian St., Boone, NC

Financial Aid

Summer School students may be considered for financial assistance if they meet the requirements of the Student Financial Aid Office pertaining to continuing students. Further information on eligibility and an application may be obtained from the Student Financial Aid Office. The financial aid program is designed to meet the needs of students who would otherwise be unable to attend Appalachian State University.

Types of Aid

Two principal types of aid are available during the summer: (1) Loans, usually long-term and low interest, to be repaid after the student leaves college; (2) Employment, often in work related to the student's field of study. Award packages frequently are made, with the total amount dependent upon the individual needs and financial situation of the student and his family. Funds for aid are derived from a variety of sources. Application forms are available from the Student Financial Aid Office and must be submitted by March 15. A minimum of three months should be allowed for processing Guaranteed Student Loan Applications. It is possible for a "SUMMER ONLY" student to receive a Guaranteed Student Loan.

Learning Resources at Appalachian

The Learning Resources program at Appalachian is comprised of three major units of academic support. They are as follows: The University Library, the AudioVisual Service Center, and the Center for Instructional Development.

At the center of the campus and of academic life at Appalchian is the Carol Grotnes Belk Library, which houses on open stacks nearly 450,000 volumes, some 110,000 government documents, and over 350,000 units of microform. Approximately 4500 periodical subscriptions are received, including the major titles in the subject fields. The library maintains subscriptions to more than 63 local, national, and foreign newspapers. Attractive areas for general reading are provided on all three levels of the library as well as study areas, lecture rooms, and a smoking lounge on various levels. A 24-hour study room is available most of the time. time.

Among the special collections are the Music Library, located in the Broyhill Music Center and the W.L. Eury Appalachian Regional Collection, containing materials (books, tapes, pictures, artifacts) primarily concerned with the Appalachian region and housed on the second floor Dougherty Library.

The Library is open approximately 95 hours per week. The hours are posted at the Library entrance. A currently valid identification card is required for all check-out or production services provided in Learning Resources.

Although the AudioVisual Services Center is a separate organizational member of Learning Resources, it is located on the ground floor of Belk Library. The standard recording and projection equipment can be checked out by persons holding a currently valid university identification card. Also, production of visual and audio materials for educational use, advice on the selection and the use of equipment, and consultation on materials design may be obtained in the AudioVisual Services Center.

CR 3537-101 & CR 5537-101. Developing Mind Potential and Creative Learning. 2 semester hours; 9:00—11:45 a.m., MTWTF.

Study and use of easy and enjoyable special mental training exercises designed to enable the student to function at the Alpha level of consciousness - a level of mind/brain activity associated with inner levels of mental activity, tranquility, inspiration, creativity, concentration, E.S.P., improved functioning in health matters, and learning and recall capabilities. Upon completion of the course the student will (1) Understand how to use more of the potential of his own mind through functioning at the Alpha level of consciousness, (2) Improve functioning of memory, learning, visualization, creativity, intuition, and subjective communication, and (3) Accomplish at least one major self-improvement goal through the use of Alpha functioning techniques. It has been said that most of us use only five to ten percent of our true mind capacity. This course will assist each person in discovering how to use more of the potential of his/her own mind.

CR 5544-101. Microcomputer workshop for Counselors and Human Development Specialists. 2 semester hours; 1:30—4:30 p.m., MTWTF.

Practitioners and graduate students from counseling and other human development fields will be introduced through "hands-on" experience, to basic understanding of the development, types, parts, languages, and applications of microcomputers. There will be opportunity for sharing information and reviewing representative software which counselors, student development specialists, and related professionals may use in public schools, colleges, and community agencies. A goal will be the preparation by each participant of a preliminary plan for the effective use of microcomputers in his/her own work setting. Workshop staff will include ASU personnel and appropriate guests.
